Business Valuation

MIDDLETOWN — Mahoney Sabol & Company announces that firm partner Gary R. Gomola, CPA/ABV, CVA, has been awarded the Accredited in Business Valuation credential by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

The ABV credential, established in 1996 by the AICPA, recognizes CPAs with extensive professional experience in business valuation and is granted exclusively to CPAs who elect to demonstrate their business expertise and experience by earning the credential.

Gomola met the requirements to earn the credential by providing evidence of substantial experience and continuing education in business valuation.

He also passed a written exam covering the business valuation common body of knowledge, including the areas of professional and regulatory standards, valuation methods and report writing.

In addition to his CPA and ABV credentials, Gomola also holds the Certified Valuation Analyst designation conferred by the National Association of Certified Valuation Analysts.
